I'm just learning Python and I'm stuck on one part of the problem. I'm trying to find a way to search through all documents for all items of the form: `.MyClass { blah blah blah... }` Let's say a document has 10 elements of this form. So I want to make a regex to look through the collection and replace the unique id (`x-foo-tooltip-bar`) with something else so it will look like this. `.MyClass { blah blah blah... }` The regex that I've so far is: `if "x-foo-tooltip-bar" in doc.nodeValue: doc.nodeValue.replace('x-foo-tooltip-bar', 'x-tooltip-bar')` This works on the first few documents, but after it hits the next one, it doesn't search it again. The part that I'm lost on is how to tell it to look through all of the values so I don't need to search it again. I tried this (it didn't work): `if "x-foo-tooltip-bar" in doc.nodeValue or "`
