Sergeant David Ruiz testified that while on duty on March 23, 1998 at approximately 10:00 p.m., he had responded to a disorderly conduct complaint at Bank of America. When he arrived at the location in question, Bank of America had already been closed. Officer Ruiz stated that when he arrived on the scene, he observed two white male subjects standing in the parking lot of the bank. According to Officer Ruiz, both of the men were facing the entrance of the bank and appeared to be arguing with each other. Officer Ruiz observed the two men talking to some individuals that appeared to be employees from the bank. After several minutes, the white males went into the bank, but not without first returning to the other individuals in the parking lot. As Officer Ruiz and other individuals approached the individuals, the white males exited the bank and moved toward a white car which was parked beside the bank. Officer Ruiz testified that when the white males saw him, they started running toward him. Officer Ruiz stated that when the white males realized that he was a police officer and not the customers from the bank, they turned back. Officer Ruiz then explained that at this point, the
