There is a plan, and we may not know what that plan is, but our path is certainly leading us in the right direction, although we may not like where that path takes us. I was born in 1974 and was given a "ticket to ride" because I was an only child. Through the good times and bad, I've mostly adapted to the plan and never questioned my place in it. With that said, I still do my best to find the plan in chaos, even if chaos is my norm.Q: I cannot host a netTie-RIMP2-1-Linux-Bundle-2.01.bin firmware image using RPI firmware manager I am trying to host a netTie-RIMP2-1-Linux-Bundle-2.01.bin firmware image using the RPI firmware manager: $ sudo./rpi-firmware-manager -w /tmp/.rpimonitor -I /tmp/.rpimonitor2 I get the following error message: Failed to read from channel (Channel 0): Connection closed Failed to connect to board (via USB): Device not available Bus error on address Finished What could I be doing wrong? A: I managed to get this to work. I ran the following command as the pi user with sudo: sudo dd if=/tmp/nettierimp2-1-rpi-1-linux-bundle-2.
