
Fifa 22

During the in-development cycle, we have been working closely with our player community to make sure that the gameplay is authentic and delivers on the fun of FIFA's football gameplay. As part of the annual FIFA Points Championship, we took thousands of samples from the players' performances and then worked with our development team to combine the data with in-game actions and the speed of the player. Based on this data, we have been making adjustments to both gameplay and animations on the pitch to make FIFA 22 the most authentic and exciting experience on PS4. Our goal is to ensure that, in FIFA 22, players are rewarded for the skill they display in the real world with the way they perform on the pitch. We hope you enjoy this version of FIFA, and we can't wait to hear your feedback as you play. We think that this collaboration with the real players is the perfect way to bring FIFA into the twenty-first century. Presenting new content in FIFA 22 Along with “HyperMotion Technology” we have also made major improvements and additions to the game. New teams: Old Trafford, Arsenal, Bournemouth We have added new commentary, Mastered Footage and other content for eleven of the 22 World Cup teams. Football IQ We have also improved how players understand and utilise the football playing styles of the opposition team, by highlighting the strengths and weaknesses of each team via the Football IQ score. This should provide a better understanding for your player when they are interacting with an opposition team. Enhanced Player Interactions We have improved player and ball interaction in a number of ways. Players can now take advantage of the ball positionally by moving to an advanced position. The new dribbling control system has been reworked and has been made even more player responsive. The new dribbling concept will allow players to create a more fluid and natural connection with the ball. The dribbling physics in FIFA 22 are based on the way players move in real life, rather than trying to provide an exact replication of the football in real life. We have improved the ball physics and responses by taking the influences of air on the ball into account. Sliding tackles have been improved and are now more responsive. Improved Player AI We have been working on the way that players control and movement on the ball. We have improved the player

Features Key:

- New league types and kits: FIFA 22 unlocks 22 new leagues across two brand-new regions giving total FIFA single player locations to explore in the World Cup hosts Russia and Saudi Arabia as well as new kits and kits-related conditions unique to these new leagues. In addition, FIFA 22 introduces the ability to customise your club’s kits, presenting an all-new colour palette, pattern styles, and even fabrics.

- Hover from the ball: FIFA 22 is the first game to present player abilities and movement physics, allowing players to hover and dart from the ball instantly as they would on the pitch and aim their pass in any direction. This feature will allow you to manipulate your game by placing cunning, accurately-placed passes that look effortless.
 - Ball Physics: Unmatched ball physics allow for the most responsive football gameplay to date, creating a fantastically believable and authentic experience. All of the tools and tricks footballers use on the pitch are now shown in precise simulation. Precision in and around the goal, turning, saves, take-ons, defence, heading and much more will be shown in real time on-screen.
 - Season Mode: FIFA Season mode perfectly resembles the FIFA season with realistic schedules, fixtures and long-term goals. Therefore your club will suffer when placed in tough league situations, for example playing a championship game just three days after a very difficult group stage.
 - Weather Conditions: FIFA 22 introduces new weather effects like fog and wind. This way the weather affects the gameplay, for example during a wet and windy winter game opponents will slow down. Newly added wind conditions require more space compared to other weather effects, affecting their movement.
