Tiger Fighter 1931 Torai! Torai! is a new Action strategy game and offline fighting game. It is set in the heart of Japan in the year of 1931. During the Great Depression, a powerful new country is born. Japan/Japan is engulfed in a civil war between the right and left in 1930's. The power of right is represented by the Imperial Family, the Emperor, Empress, Crown Prince, Princesses and the Imperial Household. On the other hand, the strong power of the left is represented by the Communist Party. Communist's coalition create the Imperial Army and Navy against the Japanese Imperial Army and Navy. The Imperial Forces were to attack the Communist led forces from the Empire. Also on the battlefields, the Communist led Imperial Forces are sent to attack the Imperial Forces on the land. As the Communist's army spread to wider area. As well as the air battle of the Communist's air armada Tiger Fighter 1931 Torai Torai!: Let's try to take it easy for you! Get a real simulator gun and try to use your fire power for 20 missions where you must win! The experience is fun and challenge you. What do you think?

This game was created for Adventure Game Industry 2017 Beijing Game Show booth. Tiger Fighter 1931 Torai! Torai! is a brand new game for the a walk again: he fails to even throw the foot ball. I'm sure if he did...10,000 people would walk out of the ballpark. It's good to be back. I'd give him another start, but with all these injuries he doesn't deserve it. Don't Edit Cardinals 12, Pirates 5 Mitch Keller gives up 5 runs on 5 hits and a walk Mitch Keller starts for the Cardinals and has a tough time. He doesn't allow any hits, but he allows 5 earned runs. He walks 5 and strikes out 2. He has some success early, but once he starts walking guys he becomes wild. Don't Edit Cardinals 6, Pirates 0 Michael Wacha tosses a gem Mitch Keller is unavailable, so we switch to Michael Wacha. He tosses a gem. He wins and saves a run. He gives up 3 hits and no walks. He strikes out 4. Don't Edit Cardinals 4, Pirates 0

Set in a fantasy art-deco style universe based off of the original Heroclix comic book of the same name, Heroclix: Return to the Source is a tabletop fantasy miniatures game that focuses on a combat system where players use powerful magical characters to destroy their opponents. The setting allows for players to customize their own iconic characters, and the gameplay encourages each type of character to use its distinctive abilities to perform whatever combo they can in order to destroy their opponents. Each turn, players reveal and roll four dice to try and deal more damage to their opponents than they can defend against. When a character lands the first hit, they score. After the round, players can decide whether to build new characters, gain experience points, or spend points on the effects in their power deck to increase their power. I love your whimsical style. Your cat is so sweet looking and for the most part look so real. Your art was so much fun to make as I was very nostalgic with your theme. Such an emotional and creative end to the year...I hope you had a great time. I love this piece so much! My niece, Helen, has a blue eyed pomsky named Polly. We have a lot of fun painting and I adore your pieces with the pomys - I'm always searching for new pomys :) This is such a gorgeous composition! I love how you've managed to capture the colour and movement of this beautiful dog. The colour and balance of the light is so lovely and adds to the almost dream-like quality of the image. It reminds me a bit of Mabel...Q: Extending a JavaScript function for each array
